A PUBLIC NUISANCE.

The performances of the watering carts, including that belonging to the Tramways Company, is getting to be a public nuisance. The supply of water dispensed is so liberal that dust is displaced by mud, and hollow places in the street become pools of water. The inconvenience affects everyone—pedestrians, carriages and bicyclists. The sky may be cloudless day after day, but carriages are still as dirty as after a regular kona. For bicyclists the condition of the streets is positively dangerous. The track of the tramway is muddy at 12 o'clock at night; and as it slopes sharply to the street, the unwary cyclist never knows when his wheel may slip and throw him under the wheels of a passing carriage. If the bicyclist is to be banished to the street, he is at least entitled to some consideration, and since the enterprising Columbia company has filled the city up with its wheels, the question assumes real practical importance.

Dust is undoubtedly a nuisance, but so is mud. On windless or almost windless days, street watering is superfluous, and, in these hard times, the merchants should not pay for a superfluity. All that is required to get rid of this serious nuisance is the exercise of a little judgement. Keep the water off the streets altogether when it is not needed; and, when it is, use it with moderation.

THE GERRYMANDER.

The shameless practice of gerrymandering which has stained the history of both American parties for many years has received a blow in Wisconsin which ought to check the evil, though it probably will not do so. The Supreme Court of that State has declared a late outrageous bill passed by the Legislature, unconstitutional. The bill, which was the work of a democratic assembly was nevertheless set aside by a democratic court, and this circumstance is highly gratifying for it shows that political corruption has left the heart of things sound. A late number of an American monthly publishes an article by Senator Edmunds, which describes a GERRYMANDER in the South. The description is accompanied by a map of the State as redistricted, which represents it as a veritable labyrinth devised by that modern minotaur, the politician, whom one imagines in the centre, swallowing offices, and bewildering the voter in the serpentine windings of his trap.

The legislature of Ohio is in no way discouraged by the action of the Court in Wisconsin, and proposes to redistrict that State on a basis which will have the virtue of making one Republican count for as much as two Democrats.

One who is not in politics must fall back on his general knowledge of human nature before he can in anywise understand how a whole party can join in an act which, in its intrinsic character, differs from robbery only because it is on a grand scale, and steals by a single stroke the rights of thousands. No doubt many men who pass in private life as honest have voted for a gerrymander. Such things would be enough to destroy one's faith in democracy were it not for the immense moral recuperative power of the people, which, when once roused, is strong enough to shake off at a blow an abuse which has held sway for a generation.

Minister Egan.

SAN DIEGO.—The cruiser Yorktown arrived to-day. Captain Evans, in speaking of his stay at Valparaiso, said that the telegraphic report of the stoning of his gig was correct, but he did not care to go into details. "I went to Valparaiso with a poor opinion of Patrick Egan," he said, "as I thought him an agitator instead of a diplomat, but now I am frank to confess that I wronged him. Mr. Egan is a gentleman and a diplomat, and moreover one of the nerviest and bravest Irishmen the land of the shamrock ever produced. Hurrah for Pat! The Chileans swore that the refugees should rot in the American Legation. He paid no attention, but protected them just the same. I have counted fourteen Chilean policemen and eight spies around the legation at one time. Egan again the legation was threatened."

Robert Louis Stevenson.

The admirers of Robert Louis Stevenson have noticed with regret that since his naturalization in Samoa his contributions to literature have not only been few and far between, but also decidedly inferior to his earlier work. Late news from the South Sea Islands suggest an explanation of this state of things. Mr. Stevenson has gone into politics; and it looks as if he had been setting up a Presidential or a royal boom for himself in the tight little island of his adoption.

Following the example of the United States, the Canadian government has passed a law offering a bounty of 1 cent per pound on all beet-root sugar produced in the Dominion between July 1, 1891, and July 1, 1893, with an additional bounty of 34 cents per 100 pounds for each degree, or fraction of a degree, over 70 degrees polariscope test.—(Scientific American.)

HOW TO GET RICH.

Through studying the wealthy men
Who society adorn so;
The best way to get rich, I'm forced
To think, is to be born so.

BY MARRIAGE.

Wealth always brings a load of cares,
And few men well can carry it;
But if you do not fear their weight,
A good way is to marry it.

THROUGH BIG DEALS.

If you would admiration win,
And would forever feel it;
To get your wealth just hustle round,
Make some big deals and steal it.

BY ECONOMY.

One way there is of getting wealth,
Though few there be that learn it;
And that's to toil and pinch and save,
And struggle till you earn it.

THROUGH THE STILL.

But of all plans of getting wealth,
One doth surpass in worth;
Just fill yourself with whisky,
And then you'll own the earth.

Monday, April 18, 1892.
The weather this week is likely to be dry and slightly warmer.

The business outlook for the present quarter is not half so bad as the cry of the croakers would indicate. It's the people who think, think, think without doing; people with not enough energy in them to get out of the office and go forward and wait on customers; people who think advertising doesn't pay that are going to tell you that business is not what it was when sugar sold at $90 a ton. To make times better the business man must watch every honest opportunity to secure customers—and dollars. Merely to look after the customers and let the coin look after itself is not good business. The better way is to sell fewer goods and sell to people who you can collect from without adding lawyers fees and court expenses to the end of the bill. Weed out the bad paying customers, offer inducements to those who are willing to pay cash and the buyer and seller will have fewer sleepless nights. This action would be the preliminary step to a strictly cash business and there would be no necessity to jump, abruptly, from the credit to the cash system. Where, as in Honolulu, business has been conducted for a half century on a credit basis, merchants will find many obstacles in the way of a sudden change of system.

Besides all this you must have the goods, both in quantity and quality, that the people demand. We have been successful in our effort to secure just such things as the people want—things useful and ornamental, things for the parlor as well as the kitchen. The result is that seldom during the working hours is our store without the breezy hum that goes hand in hand with busy times.

We have made it a rule to make customers feel at home when inside the store no matter whether they come merely to inspect the Haviland China or Fischer Steel Range or buy an Aermotor. Our treatment of them is the same; and they're pleased in consequence. We're selling goods. If the man with an ossified liver would look to his physical ailments the cry about hard times would not be heard; bad liver, you know, means the blues. Look to your liver.

We have en route a big supply of Haviland. Probably while you're reading this we are unpacking the goods. So many demands have been made upon us lately for Haviland that, should it increase, our stock would be depleted. In this, as in every instance, we took time by the forelock and sent off orders for a larger stock than ever. In addition to the "2196" we have ordered another pattern. Our reason for this is because some people do not want the same pattern that their neighbors have, and others wanted a different pattern to sandwich in for a salad or fish set. These people can be accommodated in a very few days—possibly now.

Another "leader" with us is the Fischer Range. We make it a leader because it is a good article, one that is sure to please the purchaser. We've sold them ever since the Company has been in existence—we have used one for years and years. We didn't ask our friends to buy them until we found out by experience that they were quite the best range on the market. Six of them went to our customers last week. One of them to a couple just embarking on the matrimonial sea. That couple is beginning life as life should be begun. As the gentleman remarked when he bought it he "didn't want any dyspepsia in his'n." He knows that dyspepsia lurks in badly cooked food and not in food cooked on a Fischer Range.

YOU FURNISH THE FEET WE DO THE REST.

That's all we ask you to do—furnish the feet. We will not only do the work, but we will do it well. You know what the young man said to his sweetheart as he bade her goodbye. He grasped her cordially by the hand and exclaimed: "Be good to yourself, my girl!" Perhaps that advice was unnecessary. Be good to your feet. Perhaps that advice is unnecessary, but we hit the target in the bull's eye when we say that nothing in the world is better for your feet than our $3.00 Ladies' French Kid Tie. It is a shoe that fits the foot, fits the foot and, what is just as much to the point, fits the pocketbook.
